Customer Satisfaction Survey Brings Insight to WV Surplus Daily Operations and Marketing Efforts

As part of our ongoing commitment to excellent customer service, the West Virginia State Agency for Surplus Property (WV Surplus) recently conducted an online survey to measure its customers' overall satisfaction. WV Surplus also collected information on ways it can improve its programs, how individuals learned about WV Surplus and what motivates them to visit the facility.

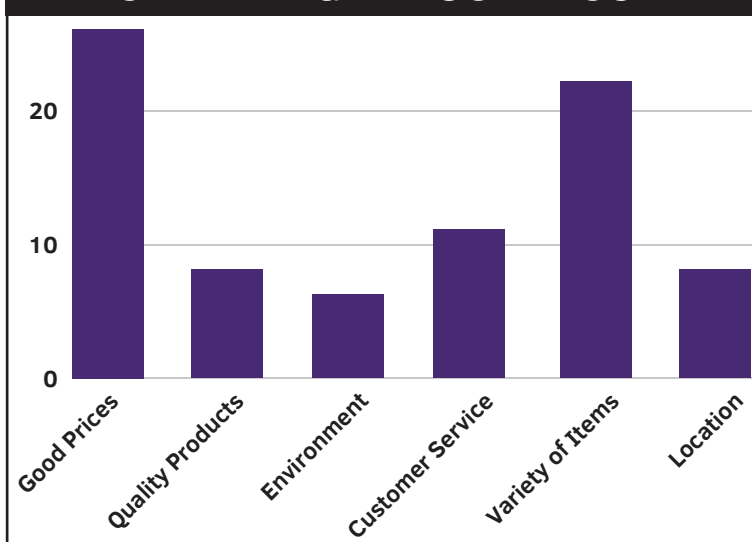

Overall, WV Surplus was pleased to learn that customers found the staff to be helpful and professional during their visits. Many individuals also commented on the wide selection of items available at the facility.

Some statistics from the survey revealed:

- 73% of respondents were highly likely or somewhat likely to recommend WV Surplus

Recent Open House for Eligible Organizations a Success

On May 23, 2018, WV Surplus hosted its Open House for Eligible Organizations (e.g. state agencies, counties, cities, schools, fire departments and nonprofit organizations). Approximately 21 different organizations were represented by 30 attendees during the course of the event.

Throughout the Open House, attendees were invited to attend two different orientation workshops, one at 10:30 a.m. and the other at 12:30 p.m. Both presentations were presented by WV Surplus Manager Elizabeth Perdue and provided a high level overview of the state and federal surplus programs.

"WV Surplus was pleased to see so many new organizations represented at the Open House," shared Perdue. "Several attendees said this was their first time visiting the warehouse and learning about the state

WV Surplus Kicks Off Summer with Customer Celebration, a New Employee and a Renewed Dedication to Service

WV Surplus has been extra busy with special events in the last few months. Our annual Open House for Eligible Organizations (see page 1) was held in May while our 2018 Customer Appreciation Day for the public took place in early June. Thank you to everyone who attended these events and helped make them an enormous success!

Our recent customer satisfaction survey (see page 1), asked a variety of questions regarding our service at WV Surplus. In addition to the variety of items in the warehouse and the savings available to the public, several comments mentioned the opportunity to give these retired items a new life. Whether it is a vehicle to help you get to work, a notebook binder for a student or furniture to complete an eligible organization's new office, WV Surplus is here to serve the state of West Virginia.

Don't forget that throughout the remainder of 2018, I will be continuing to travel around the state to talk about the state and federal surplus property programs. If you are with a local government entity or a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, I highly encourage you to attend one of these events. Upcoming dates include:

- Wheeling: July 12
- Elkins: August 16
- Athens: September 13
- Logan: November 15
- Charleston: December 4

To register for one of these events, please visit <http://wvpurchasing.eventbrite.com>. Please direct all questions regarding these events to Purchasing.Division@wv.gov.

I am also pleased to announce that soon we will be implementing a new vehicle pricing system! Keep an eye on our Facebook page for news when this change will go into effect. We will also have an article in the next issue of The Property Connection.

showers become more common, I want to remind you that our indoor warehouse is climate controlled for your comfort and convenience.

If you still have not visited Dunbar since our grand reopening, I highly encourage you to do so! When you visit, be sure to welcome our new vehicle coordinator Scott Brown (see page 4).

Whether you are new to our program or are one of our long-time customers, we welcome each and every one of you to see what WV Surplus has to offer. We appreciate your support and hope to see you soon.

- to a friend or colleague.
- 62% of respondents cited a "specific need" as their top motivator for visiting the warehouse.

- 68% of respondents said they had visited the Surplus warehouse previously and 29% revealed they had made a purchase in the last three months.
- More than half of the respondents also said they had told someone about WV Surplus within the last three months.
- 89% of respondents were registered or planned on registering for our email subscription list. (Click here to register!)
- The most popular request from respondents was to see more sale items and pictures of current inventory on our Facebook page.

As always, we encourage our customers to share any suggestions or comments they may have when visiting our facility. Have something you want to share? Call us at 304.766.2626 or email Jessica.L.Chambers@wv.gov with the subject line "WV Surplus." New Vehicle Coordinator Joins WV Surplus Staff

WV Surplus is pleased to welcome Scott Brown as its new Vehicle Coordinator. This position was previously performed by Doug Elkins, who is now the Federal Property Manager. Brown's duties will include the inspection of vehicles, pricing of vehicles and managing daily vehicle sales.

Brown graduated from Herbert Hoover High School before attending the Garnet Career Center, where he earned his associate's degree in accounting and data processing. He now resides in Nitro and is a local musician. In his free time, Brown enjoys attending classic car shows, seeing live bands, playing his guitar, fishing and watching West Virginia University and the Pittsburgh Steelers play. Brown also participates in various activities with his church and volunteers with Celebrate Recovery.

Welcome Scott Brown to the WV Surplus family!

As the new vehicle coordinator for WV Surplus, Scott Brown replaced Doug Elkins, who recently transitioned into a new role within the organization. Individuals may contact Brown with any questions regarding vehicles for sale.

and federal surplus programs.”

One of the main goals of this event was to reach out to and educate eligible organizations on the benefits of partnering and shopping with WV Surplus. While staff is always available to answer questions during normal business hours, having a dedicated time during the Open House is a great way to share new information and answer attendees’ questions.

“My staff is committed to helping eligible organizations fill any need they have,” added Perdue. “Making eligible organizations aware of the resources available to them is very important.”

A post-event survey revealed that 28% of the attendees were “Very Unfamiliar” or “Somewhat Unfamiliar” with WVSASP prior to attending the event. The post-event survey also revealed the following information:

- 100% of respondents were “Extremely Satisfied” with the workshops.
- 62% of respondents said they completed or picked up an Application for Eligibility as a direct result of the Open House.
- 100% of respondents indicated they were “Highly Likely” to recommend WVSASP to other organizations.
- 100% of respondents indicated they would be interested in attending another Open House or similar event.

Because of the success of this event, WVSASP is looking to host a similar event in 2019. If you have any comments or suggestions, please submit those to Jessica.L.Chambers@wv.gov with the subject line “WV Surplus.”

WV Surplus Manager Elizabeth Perdue presented a morning and afternoon session, titled “Orientation to State and Federal Surplus Property Programs,” to attendees of the 2018 Open House for Eligible Organizations. Each session allowed individuals to share their organization’s unique needs and learn the benefits of the state and federal surplus programs.

A total of 30 individuals attended the 2018 Open House for Eligible Organizations and represented approximately 21 different organizations. Attendees included the Greater Greenbrier Long-term Recovery Committee in Lewisburg, Facing Hunger Food Bank in Huntington and the Gilmer County Volunteer Fire Department.

“Thank you” to Our Customers

On June 6, 2018, WV Surplus coordinated the 2018 Customer Appreciation Day. Over 54 individuals joined us during the day to shop, discuss their property needs and take advantage of the special extended hours. Many of those who attended expressed their appreciation to the WV Surplus staff for making shopping more convenient with their schedules.
